

The entrygate

to European cooperation in Agricultural Research for Development

- 35 universities and research centers in Europe with a strong concern for tropical & subtropical agriculture;
- European integrated courses offered by members (Erasmus mundus);
- Cooperation with third country Universities or net work of universities (Searca).

In Eurasia 2

- Facilitate involvement of EU universities
- Better response from Europe to the local needs (organisation of structural programmes to strengthen the local partners)
- Facilitate linkage to research projects (TG groups 2 and 3)
